

MAGOON THE BIG ELECTION BOSS

Citizens of Cuba Cast Their Votes Under Supervision of Americans.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN

NOT OVER 50 PER CENT OF THE ELECTORS VOTED.

Havana, Aug. 1.—Cuba's first election under American supervision was held today, and was marked by general tranquillity and the absence of excitement throughout the island. The only disturbance occurred this afternoon at San Jose de las Lajas, where there was a slight collision between rival processions of whites and blacks, but in which no one was hurt.

Governor Magoon, in an automobile visited all the polling places in the city this morning and tonight expressed gratification at the orderly manner in which the election proceeded.

Voters Apathetic.

In Havana city extraordinary apathy was shown by the voters. Despite the activity of the organized efforts to bring the voters to the polls in carriages and automobiles, the total number of votes cast here was less than 50 per cent of the registration totals.

Reports from the interior indicate that, despite fine weather, not over 40 per cent of the electors cast their ballots.

The election boards in all the municipalities met at 8 o'clock to receive returns of the local boards, but at 9 o'clock not a single ward had been reported.

Few Returns In.

It is said that owing to the inexperience of the elections officials with the new system, only a few scattering returns will be received tonight.

Both the Zayistas and conservatives are claiming Havana province and city and with the chances rather favoring the former party. Estimates from interior points indicate a close contest with a fair prospect for a conservative success in a majority of the provinces.

Election at Santiago.

Santiago, Cuba, Aug. 1.—The provincial election in Santiago province today was orderly. The weather was fair and a heavy vote was polled. The conservatives and Zayistas, according to returns thus far received, are in the lead.

Message from Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 1.—President Roosevelt, in replying to a cablegram received from Governor Magoon tonight, in which the latter described the orderly election held in Cuba today, congratulated the people of Cuba on the orderly election, which he termed a "vindication of their capacity for self-government."

The president's message follows: "Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 1. "Magoon, Havana: "I congratulate the people of Cuba on the orderly election that has been held and the vindication just shown of their

CARDINAL GIBBONS IN ROME

GIVEN AN AUDIENCE BY POPE PIUS LASTING ONE HOUR.

Rome, Aug. 1.—At the Vatican tonight it was considered certain that Pope Pius will hold a consistory either before November, when the reform of the congregations becomes effective, or in December at the close of his jubilee year. In either instance it is asserted his holiness will create ten new cardinals, because the sacred college is now reduced to a membership of fifty-eight, there being twelve red hats to be bestowed.

The presence of Cardinal Gibbons in Rome, it is expected, will result in a decision being reached as to whether or not a new American cardinal will be chosen this year.

Gibbons Visits the Pope. Cardinal Gibbons had an audience with the pope today, which lasted one hour. The pontiff expressed great satisfaction with the condition of the church in America.

Speaking of the changes made recently in the organization of the Roman congregations, Cardinal Gibbons expressed his admiration for the activity of the pope in this matter. In reply, the holy father said:

"You and I are of the same age, and we are still quite young." Archbishop Farley of New York arrived here today and will be received by the pope Monday.

Visit to Papal Secretary. After the audience Cardinal Gibbons visited Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, with whom he had a long conversation. This afternoon the American cardinal called on Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who will represent Pope Pius as a delegate to the eucharistic congress in London. The ideas of the two cardinals are in accord concerning the London celebration.

Cardinal Gibbons also visited Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the propaganda, and a lengthy discussion followed concerning American affairs still pending under Cardinal Gotti's jurisdiction.

Cardinal Gotti invited Cardinal Gibbons, who is a member of the congregation of the propaganda, to be at a meeting of the congregation Aug. 10, at which American questions will be discussed for the last time. Among the questions most likely to be considered at that time is the selection of a coadjutor archbishop of San Francisco.

Boy Accidentally Shot. Mangled Body Found in Sanpete Mountains, Where He Was Herding Sheep.

(Special to The Herald.) Nephi, Aug. 1.—Raymond Hoyt, 17 years of age, son of Henry Hoyt of this place, was accidentally killed in the Sanpete mountains some time within the past two weeks. Young Hoyt was herding sheep in that locality for Edward Pay and on Thursday last Edward Pay Jr. went up to move camp when he was horrified to find young Hoyt's body horribly mangled and life extinct. By his side was his gun, which had been accidentally discharged, producing the fatal wound.

The body was brought to Nephi today and buried.

IN THE PROBATE COURT.

James H. Moyle and Oscar W. Moyle yesterday petitioned the probate division of the district court asking that letters of administration be issued to Stephen L. Moyle for the estate of their mother, Elizabeth Moyle, who died May 28, 1908. The property consists of a part of lot 3, block 3, plat 1, upon which there are two residences; also an interest in part of lot 8, block 47, plat C. The value of the property is not stated in the petition. The heirs are six children, all of whom reside in Salt Lake. Their names are James H. Moyle, Bertha M. Gray, Oscar W. Moyle, Stephen L. Moyle, Ida M. Van Cott and Louise M. Silver.

Peter Kriazes petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of his brother George Kriazes, who was killed while in the employ of the Emigration Canyon railroad on July 21. The only property is a claim against the company for $500. E. F. Stathos Limeris petitioned for letters for the estate of Thalis Limeris, who died June 11 and left a claim against the Rio Grande for wages.

MAY OFFER PRIZES FOR LINCOLN SHEEP

E. W. Patrick of Ogden has asked the Utah State Fair association to offer prizes for Lincoln sheep, similar to those offered for Cotswolds. He explained that if such prizes are offered he can secure for the fair this fall a flock of Lincolns, in which there are some Chicago International and Lewis & Clarke exposition winners. As twenty-four premiums have been offered for the Cotswolds, Mr. Patrick's request would mean an additional twenty-four premiums for the Lincolns. It was stated yesterday that his request would probably be favorably acted upon by the directors of the fair, who are now in session.

At the same time the matter of providing silver cups for the sweepstakes of the Lincoln sheep, which is to be held at the fair, was discussed. Mrs. E. F. Snyder of 753 West South Temple street, has offered a hand-painted beer mug as one of the prizes for the dog show.

TEN THOUSAND TOURISTS FOR YELLOWSTONE LINE

Ten thousand tourists will leave Salt Lake for Yellowstone National park this month. This is the estimate made by Oregon Short Line officials of the month's travel over the Yellowstone Park branch. At present, twenty-seven special trains from Salt Lake to the park have been arranged for. This number, it is believed, will be increased. The tourists on the regular daily trains and those on the specials it is said that the total number will not be less than 10,000.

The Oregon Short Line no longer feeds passengers in the dining cars at Yellowstone. The dining room is now in use in which several hundred persons can be served.

As most of the tourists stop in Salt Lake before going on to the park it is estimated that they will spend here during the present month more than $250,000.

SEETHING CROWD IS PRESENT IN COURT WHEN ROW IS AIRED

Neighbors of Contending Parties Hear Testimony in Picturesque Altercation Following a Dog Fight—Hearing Is Continued.

The courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity as Francis M. Bishop, the learned judge of Waterloo, listened to the evidence of the prosecution in the case of Mrs. Charles Russell and Mrs. Alonzo Brewer, charged with battery upon the person of Mrs. Leona Lewis. Every neighbor of the contending parties who could get away attended the trial and those who were unable to get into the courtroom listened eagerly at the crack of each door and window. Every spectator was an ardent supporter of one faction or the other, and black were the looks and angry the mutterings which greeted Attorney Ray Van Cott's cross-examination of the witnesses for the prosecution, while every ruling in favor of the defense was loudly cheered by the Russell-Brewer faction.

Mrs. Leona Lewis took the stand for the prosecution and with her voice trembling with indignation she detailed how she had been set upon by Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Russell, who were engaged in a fight with her. Mrs. Russell, who was the aggressor, had been removed by the violent jerks of Mrs. Brewer and how the unequal struggle had at last been ended by a magnificent upper cut from the brawny right arm of Mrs. Russell which landed neatly on the point of the jaw. Although no referee was present, there seems to be no doubt that Mrs. Lewis took the full count. Attorney Ray Van Cott conducted a searching cross-examination prompted by Mrs. Russell, who sat at his side and whispered to him continually.

Wants to See the Place. Mr. Van Cott: I demand to see the place from which the hair was pulled. Mrs. Lewis parted her abundant pompadour for his inspection. I cannot notice that any hair has disappeared.

Mrs. Lewis: I cannot notice it all right if it had been taken from your head. (Gazing with scorn at Mr. Van Cott's sparse locks.)

Mr. Van Cott: When did you first strike Mrs. Brewer with the hatchet?

Mrs. Lewis: I was about to gather kindling wood for the purpose of cooking my husband's supper.

Assistant County Attorney Carlson: I object.

Mr. Van Cott: Did you not say Mrs. Hallen is my friend and I will protect her?

Mrs. Lewis: I was wearing a red skirt and a black and white kimono.

Mr. Carlson: I object. The testimony is irrelevant and incompetent.

Mr. Lewis (husband of the witness, from behind the door): So is the attorney for the defense.

Mr. Van Cott: If you had been standing across the street and had perceived a female figure walking north along West Temple street, could you have recognized yourself at 8:30 in the evening?

Mrs. Lewis: Yes, I did not. It was a two-quart can of fresh milk.

Mr. Carlson: I object.

Mr. Van Cott: That is all. That is plenty.

Mrs. Hallen's Narrative. Mrs. Percy Hallen took the stand and carried by a marvelous flow of narrative related to the court the entire happening from the first bark of her dog Captain, which opened hostilities, through the exciting dog fight; through the two-quart can of milk which was hung upon Mr. Hallen's left eye by Mrs. Russell; through the strenuous Graco-Roman wrestling match between Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Brewer and herself; through the request of Mrs. Russell that Mrs. Brewer give Mrs. Lewis, who was mistaken for Mrs. Hallen's daughter Pearl, her "kneading" and wound up with the final punch.

Mrs. Hallen would have continued the narrative down to date but was forcibly restrained by the just judge of Waterloo, who announced that he had done a man's work since the trial opened and he did not propose to work after the official judge's union hours.

The case was continued until Tuesday at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Brewer will introduce the testimony for the defense. The interested spectators of the case, each faction occupying a different side of the street, while Judge Bishop removed the official ermine with a sigh, were intimated that it is possible the Gould-Harriman negotiations may result in an agreement concerning a union passenger station.

WILL PUSH BUNGALOWS

Type of Bungalow Turned Out by Ye Modern Planry.

For the purpose of beautifying the city and adding to the attractiveness of home architecture, "Ye Modern Planry," a company of architects, to set a good example of architecture, has formed. The exterior are to be finished in true bungalow style, with rough-stained siding, shakes and shingles, quaint hipped windows, and an abundance of field stone, boulders and clinker brick.

Salt Lake home builders, if the members of the company have their way, will adopt the California bungalow style of architecture. To set a good example of the California Bungalow company is to at once commence the construction of sixteen modern bungalows. The exterior are to be finished in true bungalow style, with rough-stained siding, shakes and shingles, quaint hipped windows, and an abundance of field stone, boulders and clinker brick.

Most of my time has been given to inspection in the nurseries in the county, the smallest raising about 10,000 trees and the largest about half a million.

Where such large quantities of trees are growing it takes the utmost care of both the proprietors and inspectors to see that they are kept clean. But this must be said to the great credit of our nurserymen that as their business has increased about three or four fold the last five or six years, so has their diligence and zeal to keep their stock clean.

The Utah trees, especially Salt Lake county raised trees, are equal to the best of California and Oregon trees, and far ahead of any raised in the eastern states. This is my report for July, 1908.

TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF NEW LINE TO OGDEN

Simon Bamberger Will Give Banquet at Lagoon to 150 Prominent Men.

Preparations are being made for the formal opening of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway next Tuesday.

While five regular through trains will be run from each end of the line, it is expected that most of the passengers on the opening day will stop at Lagoon, where the celebration of the opening of the road is to be held.

Tuesday evening Simon Bamberger, president of the Salt Lake & Ogden line, will give a banquet to the 150 prominent men of Salt Lake and Ogden. Among those who have been invited are Governor John C. Culbreth, Mayor Bransford of Salt Lake, Mayor Brewer of Ogden, the Salt Lake city council, the Salt Lake county commissioners, the Ogden city council, the Weber county commissioners, the Davis county commissioners and leading members of the commercial organizations of Salt Lake and Ogden.

The new line to Ogden is 34-10 miles in length.

REVIVES UNION DEPOT TALK

Prospective Meeting of Harriman and Gould in Salt Lake Causes a Surmise.

Word was received here yesterday that Edward H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, had left New York yesterday afternoon for the west. Mr. Harriman will inspect some of the various lines under his control between New York and Salt Lake and will probably arrive here next Wednesday or Thursday.

It is thought probable that while here he will meet George J. Gould, or if Mr. Gould decides not to come to Salt Lake while Mr. Harriman is here, he will meet some of the Gould officials.

On leaving Salt Lake, it is said, Mr. Harriman will go to Oregon for a month's rest.

The fact that Mr. Harriman is coming here and that there are negotiations between the Harriman and the Gould interests has caused some discussion of the possibility of a union depot in Salt Lake. As little headway has been made upon the Rio Grande depot, and the Short Line depot is well advanced, it has been intimated that it is possible the Gould-Harriman negotiations may result in an agreement concerning a union passenger station.
